

2005 Arizona Duel in the Desert Trials

October 1-2, 2005

“Seventy percent of success in life is showing up.” ~ Woody Allen

The Duel in the Desert is an old tradition/rivalry between those crazy Californians and the ever diligent Arizona archers. The Duel tournament itself alternates locations between California and Arizona on a yearly basis and will this year be held in California at Long Beach on November 5-6th. In preparation for this event, the Black canyon Archers and ASU's Sun Devil Archery will be hosting the Arizona Duel in the Desert trials to select the 2005 team members.

Traditionally the Arizona Duel team is made up of 20 seniors (6 recurve men, 6 recurve women, 4 compound men, 4 compound women) and 4 juniors (Junior recurve male, Junior recurve female, Junior compound male and Junior compound female). The trials process selects the team. Others may also shoot at the tournament at their preferred distances for amusement, recognition, and practice.

Arizona Duel team members customarily receive a team shirt and have their Duel tournament entry fee paid for by the ASAA. So... are you going to be a spectator or participant?
